Topics Discussed:

We discussed about the design of the website of our software, how the page would look, what options would be available on each page and how they would we connected with each other. Some of us gave some ideas on what prototype platform to use and which would be the best way to get where we wanted. Another topic of this week's discussion was the diagrams.

Decisions Made:

After a long detailed discussion we decided that:
- We would design some sketches.
- Based on those sketches, we would create the design of software's website pages using firstly Proto.io and then Figma.
- We would update some of the diagrams and user cases we uploaded during the third week.

Tasks Assigned:

After the discussion and after making the decisions we assigned the tasks as follows:
- On groups of two, the first mini group designed the sketches
- The second mini group designed the prototypes using the prototype platform Proto.io
- The last mini group updated the diagrams and use cases
- All those tasks are posted in Sketches and Diagrams/Use Case Diagrams folders
